

Staff of rail operations

Dimension - Transport

Associated Key Factor:

Competitiveness of modes

Data Source:

International Railway Union

International railways statistics 2001

http://www.uic.asso.fr/d_stats/liste/liste_comp_en.html

www.uic.asso.fr/

General Availability:

Reporting unit:

Reporting level:

Reporting period:

Data available from 1997 to 2001

Availability by country:

1997 - 2000: EU-15+AC

The indicator:

Number of people by operations (management, technical, etc.)

Description

It can be compared to other companies in order to measure the dynamism of railway companies.

How is it measured?

Data is reported from rail companies to national statistical bureaus.

The Indicator is relevant for the following pathways of the FORESIGHT FOR TRANSPORT exercise:

	Transport Impact	External Determining Variable	Intermediate Variable	Contextual Information
A reorientation of European transport policy	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Increase of trade and infrastructure needs	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Growth of transport demand	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>